

My Journey in Mass Communications & Video Production

Over the last four years I have studied several areas of Mass Communications, with my primary focus being in Video Production. Through classes at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville I gained hands on experience in what it takes to produce video and audio based entertainment. I'm driven by my pursuit of creating compelling visual stories that can leave an affect on those who interact with it.

