

Films

A collection of projects that I either produced or contributed to in a significant way. These projects showcase a variety of my skills in directing, writing, editing, and cinematography. Each project varies in visuals, tone, and genre including horror, comedy, drama, and crime.

You can see more info about each project, including my role by hovering over each image. You can also view the full projects by clicking on the each still.

